2. Presentation (3')
 - a. Greeting in your language
 - b. Language briefing (language family, location, population)
 - c. Point - 1 (anything linguistic or cultural)
 - d. Point - 2 (anything linguistic or cultural)
 - e. Farewell in your language
3. Moving out of the stage (30")

You can imagine 2a-b must be very short, around 0.5-1 minute.

Each point also takes 30"-1' only.

1. Greeting

What do you say “hello” in the formal setting like a presentation in Jasubhai hall?

What background image or multimodal effect do you want?

2. Brief facts about the language

What language family does your language belong to?

How many people use it? Mostly where?

- The Scope can be broad and wide

Choose 2-3 facts only; the main course awaits!

3. One or two main points

It can be about the linguistic feature.

It can be about the custom you practice.

It can be about the nature, arts, belief, or person.

What do you want your audience remember associated with your language?

When you set up the list,

Think about the aesthetics:

- Any image to effectively deliver your message?
- Music or performance?

You have limited time for presentation:

- How can you organize the group's presence in the stage?
- Can we think of some roles for those standing behind the main presenter?

2. The next 15 seconds: Greeting in the mother tongue (gesture?)
3. The next 30 seconds: Brief facts about the language
4. The next 30 seconds: Main point -1 (speech)
5. The next 30 seconds: (performance showing main point 1)
6. The next 45 seconds: Main point - 2 (narration with action)
7. The next 30 seconds: Closing remarks
